"Enter To Learn; Leave To Serve."

ALMA MATER

We sing to Oley Valley High School,
Noble and strong.
To thee with loyal hearts,
We raise our song.
May your spirits never die,
Nor your walls decay.
We will sing our praises,
Through endless days.

We make for thee a crown,
Rest on thy brow.
Pride, glory, honor, love,
Before thee bow.
Swelling to Heaven's high
Our praises ring.
Pray that Oley Valley High School
Survives all things.

The empty chairs on our title page symbolize the classrooms where each day we find endless opportunities to achieve those goals we have set for ourselves in our school life.

These goals, which will shape our futures, however can only be reached through constant work and effort.

The students pictured throughout this thirty-fourth yearbook reflect the efforts made toward attaining these goals: intensive study, class experiences, and participation in various activities.

Dedication

No one person — no one group — has a higher claim on the respect of the Class of 1970 than these four young men of our community who gave their lives in defense of a way of life and of the liberties to which they believed all men are entitle.

Although their sacrifices and agonies half a world away do not have the direct impact upon our day-to-day lives that blood, pain, and death imply, there is no doubt that their stand has helped shape the history of our generation. They gave their youth in a conflict that some question — but a struggle representing to these four that eternal vigilance is the price of freedom.

These four American servicemen sought no personal glory, only that a people might enjoy simple freedoms. They fought, relinquishing their life's blood with the valor of free men throughout history, and through their courage have given us a vision of a better world.

The bravery and devotion of these four in this time of protest and adversity are indeed standards of the highest order. As a small measure of thanks, we, the 1970 Senior Class of Oley Valley High School, dedicate this yearbook to their memory. Let their deaths not be in vain.

"They shall not grow old, as we
that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them."

For the Fallen.

Spike Squad Ends Season With 2-3 Log; Becker Wins State Class B Gold Medal

A 70-65 defeat by Daniel Boone opened the 1969 dual meet season. Scoring triples were Gene Becker (120-high hurdles in 15.9; the triple jump, 42′5″; and the long jump, 20′½″) and Ronald Adams (shot, 45′7″; javelin, 169′11″; and discus, 152′). Other first winners were Mark Zellner (100-yard dash in 10.9) and David Wallace (the 440 in 54.3).

Although winning 10 of 15 events, Oley next was tripped by Twin Valley, 70-65. Becker again posted a triple, winning the 120-high hurdles (15.9), the 180-lows (21.3), and the triple jump (44′1½″). Zellner won the 100- (11.0) and the 220-yard dashes (24.9); Adams, the discus (139′4″) and the javelin (150′5″); Wallace, the long jump (18′10½″); Ronald Bortz, the pole vault (9′6″); and James Sears, the two-mile run (11:30.1).

The Lynx got revenge by blasting Schuylkill Valley, 100-35! Becker copped the 120-low hurdles (13.3), the 120-highs (14.9), and the triple jump (44′3″). Adams tossed the javelin (148′1½″), the shot (43′9″), and the discus (150′1″). Wallace triumphed in the 440 (53.3), the high jump (5′10″), and the long jump (20′2″). Zellner took the 100 (10.5) and the 220 (24.3). Sears scored in the mile (5.05), and Bortz, the pole vault (10′).

Next, Oley trimmed Hamburg, 80-55. Becker annexed the 180-lows (23.2), the triple jump (45′4″), and the long jump (23′). Adams also had a "three-bagger": the shot (47′2½″), the discus (149′11½″), and the javelin (152′8″). Zellner again won the 100 (11.2) and the 200 (24.7). Michael Meals took the 120-highs (17.4); Wallace, the high jump (5′6″); and Bortz tied in the pole vault (10′).

A total of 31 points placed Oley third (in a field of 19) at the Albright Invitational Track Meet. Becker (top individual scorer) turned in a record 43′10¼″ triple jump, tied his own score in the 120-lows (13.2), and won the long jump (21′8″). Adams tied the mark of 151′2″ in the discus heave; Wallace placed second in the high jump and third in the long jump.

In a non-League encounter with Mt. Penn, Oley scored an easy 96-39. Becker again was a triple winner (the 120-lows, 14.8; the triple, 42′2½″; and the long jump, 20′). Double winners included Zellner (the 200, 25.5; the 100, 11.2); Wallace (the 440, 56.1; the high jump, 5′6″); and Adams (the discus, 141′3½″; the shot, 42′10¼″). Meals won the 120-highs (17.9); Bortz, the pole vault (9′6″); and Glenn Carter, the javelin (174′7″).

Then, Wyomissing downed the Lynx, 69-66, and Oley wound up in fourth place in Section II with a 2-3 season. Becker achieved his seventh consecutive triple win for the season with firsts in the triple (43′9″), the 120-highs (16.2), and the 120-lows (15.5). Sears won the mile (5:03.2); Zellner, the 220 (25.1); Wallace, the 440 (53.9) and the high jump (5′8″); and Adams, the discus (139′5″).

At the Penn Relays, held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Oley's team (James Bodden, Zellner, Wallace, and Michael Schneider) finished eighth.

Oley competed next in the annual Leonard Stephen Meet at Wilson, and placed fifth in a field of 15 (with 25 points). Becker won the 180-lows (21.2), but finished second in both the triple and the long jumps. Wallace came in fourth in both the long jump and the high jump, while Adams was second in the discus.

The next County meet — the John Shaner at West Reading — saw the Lynx place fifth (of 13 entrants) with 26 points. Becker wiped out his own record in the triple (44′1″) and also won the long jump (21′8½″) and the 120-lows (13.2). Adams came within less than a foot of the discus record with a throw of 147 feet. Wallace placed fourth in the high jump (5′10″).

The Venzke Relays resulted in no awards for the senior high Lynx.

In the County Victory Meet at Governor Mifflin, Oley finished third (35 points) among 14 competing schools. Becker (who walked off with the top individual performance trophy for the second year in a row) set a record in the triple (43′11½″), won the long jump (23′3½″), and the 180-lows (20′6″). Backing him were Adams, first in the discus (137′3″), fifth in the shot; Wallace, second in the high jump and fourth in the long jump; Carter, third in the javelin heave; Sears, fifth in the mile; and Zellner, sixth in both the 100-and the 220-dashes.

Oley (28 points) was sixth in scoring of 20 schools participating in the Muhlenberg Streamlined Meet. Becker, as usual, took the 120-lows (13.1) and both the triple (43′1″) and the long jumps (21′6⅜″). Adams set the lone field record with a 142′5″ in the discus. Wallace tied for third in the high jump, and Zellner took fifth in both the 100-and the 220-dashes.

Then, on May 17, Becker, Adams, and Wallace won the Class C District III PIAA Championship at Lancaster. Becker won the 180-lows (20.0) and the triple (a record, 46′11¼″), and finished second in the long jump to chalk up 16 points! Adams added three (third place in the discus), and Wallace, two (fourth in the high jump).

A week later, Becker went on to capture the Class B 180-low hurdles title in 19.7 at University Park. Gene came in second in both the triple (21′1½″) and the long jumps (45′4″).

Next, at the Ron Regar All-Star Track-and-Field Meet at Albright College, Becker won the 120-lows in 13.3, but lost the triple by two inches. Adams took the discus (a record, 155′10″), while Wallace came in fourth in both the long and the high jumps and the pole vault. Oley (with 19 points) tied with Wilson for third place.

In the Kutztown Jaycees Junior Championship Track Meet, Becker took the 180-lows (20.6), the long jump (22′), and the triple (44′2½″), while Adams was victorious in the shot. Zellner placed second in the 220 and third in the 180-lows.

Becker finished 1-2-2 in the three events in which he competed in the Penn Junior Chamber of Commerce Track Meet at Central Dauphin High, Harrisburg. He won the long jump with a leap of 22′10½″, was second in the triple, and also runner-up in the 180-low hurdles when he broke stride while going over the last hurdle.

Little Lynx Win Track, Field Section II Title, 5-0; Medlar, District III PIAA Junior High Champ

Getting off to what proved to be a misleading start, the Junior High Track-and-Field Team was defeated by Governor Mifflin, 60-49, in a non-League meet. Oley's winners were Richard Medlar (the 100, 220, and 440); Richard Readinger (low hurdles); Barry Stebbins (long jump); Michael Daniels (discus); and Dennis Steffe, Randy Melcher, Richard Readinger, and David Christman (the one-half mile relay).

Things brightened when the Little Lynx clipped Daniel Boone, 59-50. And the winning continued: Oley next whipped Twin Valley, 74-35, taking all three places in the long jump, the pole vault, and the discus, while Medlar won all three sprints!

Following that, the team went on to defeat Schuylkill Valley, 71½-37½. Medler swept the sprints, tying the school record in the 100 (10.7 seconds), as well as setting an unofficial country junior high record in the quarter-mile (53.8 seconds).

Hamburg was next to fall, 92-17. Medlar — again! — won the three sprints, while Michael Robinson set a school record in the one-half mile.

Then the cindermen nipped Wyomissing, 55-54, to clinch the Section II championship (5 wins, 0 losses). The winning five points were scored in the last event — the pole vault — by Barry Stebbins. Medlar posted another sweep in the three sprints.

At the All-Junior High County Track Meet at C. E. Cole, Oley (with 15 points) came in ninth out of 14 entrants. Outstanding performances included Stebbins (second, pole vault), Readinger (second, long jump), Daniels (fourth, discus), Medlar (fourth, the 100-dash; third, the 220).

In the junior high events at the John Shaner Track Meet, Medlar placed third in the 100-dash. He also anchored Oley's junior Lynx in the 880 and the mile-relay at the Venzke Meet for third place finishes in their heats.

Medlar then went to the PIAA Meet at York where he won the 440 in a record 53.5 seconds, took the 220 in 24, and was fourth in the 100 (10.8) to become a District III Junior High Champ.

In the Berks County Junior High Track Championship Meet at Exeter, the Little Lynx tied for third (with 24 points). Medlar scored a first in the 440 (51.3), third in the 220, and fourth in the 100; Stebbins won first in the pole vault (9′6″); Daniels managed a second and Zane Reed, a third, in the discus.

In the Junior Olympics, held at Holy Name High School, Medlar posted the fastest time in the 440 (53.9), and took second in the 220-dash.

At the Kutztown Jaycee Meet, Daniels was Oley's only winner with a first in the discus (143′2½″).

Oley Batters Tie For Third Place

In non-League action, the Lynx diamondmen got off to a good start in the 1969 season by defeating both Quakertown's Varsity, 4-2, and JV, 6-4.

Following that, Oley clipped Fleetwood, 2-1, on runs by William Burkert and Mark Grim, only to lose its third game to Schuylkill Valley, 9-7. Burkert and Keith Kleinsmith had two runs each; Grim, Guy Bryan, and Steven Lorah had one apiece.

Then came a 5-0 blanking of Kutztown. Burkert struck out ten batters, and allowed two singles and no runs. Kleinsmith slammed a three-run homer in the third, putting the Lynx ahead, 3-0. Robert Rothenberger had two hits and stole three bases.

Next, Oley bumped Brandywine, 5-1, by snapping a 1-1 tie with two runs in the top of the fourth. Ronald Richard threw a four-hitter, and Bryan had three RBI's.

The RHS JV's choked off a Lynx JV rally in the seventh inning for a 3-2 win. Leonard Christman and Mark Robertson were credited with one run each.

Wyomissing upset Oley 3-2 in nine innings in the opening Southern Division League game. Abraham Keller drove in Lorah in the fifth, and Burkert crossed on a miscue in the sixth. The Spartans held Oley to five hits and fanned 11, while Burkert struck out 12.

Twin Valley blasted Oley, 15-8. The Raiders sailed off to a 5-1 lead after three innings and tallied seven runs in the sixth to give themselves a 15-3 edge.

Oley nosed out Exeter, 4-3, by "spotting" its host a 1-0 lead in the first and then forging to the front with three in the third. Burkert made it 4-1 in the top of the fourth, but the Eagles bounced back with two. Three of Oley's seven hits went for extra bases — doubles by Bryan and Lorah, and a triple by Ronald Burkert.

Oley scored three runs in the fifth for its 5-3 victory over Mt. Penn. The Mounts had scored in the fourth to grab the lead. Burkert was credited with a home-run and a double.

Daniel Boone then slammed the Lynx, 19-3. Robertson, Keller, and Lorah gained runs.

Oley roared back to bounce Wyomissing, 12-7, by piling up five runs in the second and seven in the third. The seven-run splurge broke a 5-5 tie. Nine different Lynx were credited with one RBI, but totaled only seven hits.

The following game was close. Twin Valley stood 11-3 going into the seventh. Oley then scored five times on two hits and had the tying run at the plate before the Raiders could get the final out for an 11-8 win. Burkert homered to put the Lynx into contention in that wild seventh, which had opened with an out by Oley's first batter. Then two walks surrounding an error loaded the bases. A foul pop produced the second out, but Kleinsmith's double scored two runs, and two more scored on an overthrown grounder before an outfield fly ended things. Burkert had tripled home two runs and scored another in the third.

Then Oley made an 8-2 conquest of Exeter. Kleinsmith with a double and a home-run drove across five runs, and Stephen Lendacki plated two counters to pace the scoring parade. Burkert, who scored twice and singled in a run, gave up just two hits.

Milton Manwiller led Oley's 12-hit attack on Mt. Penn with two safeties that accounted for four runs in the 7-3 game. Grim had three hits in four trips.

In the final game, Daniel Boone edged Oley, 5-4, in ten innings. The Blazers had jumped out to an early 3-0 lead after the first inning, but the Lynx tallied singles in the second and fourth frames and then added a pair in the fifth to take the lead. Boone came back to knot the count in the next inning. The Blazers scored the winning run in the tenth. Ronald Burkert had two hits in three trips and accounted for the Lynx's only RBI. William Burkert hurled the full ten innings.

Oley (5-5) was tied for third place with Wyomissing in the final Southern Division standings. Twin Valley (8-2) was first; Daniel Boone (7-3), second; Mt. Penn (3-7), fourth; and Exeter (2-8), fifth.

Mark Zellner Scores As David, Hero Of

A riotous sojourn of a stage-struck youth who works as a delivery boy in a machine shop — that basically is what ENTER LAUGHING was all about. The Class of '70 presented this two-act comedy by Joseph Stein on March 21 and 22, 1969.

David (MARK ZELLNER) — the awkward, naive, eighteen-year-old hero — dreams of being an actor. But, this ambition sends flutters of horror through his parents (LINDA FICK and GREGORY GARMAN). They want him to be a druggist. It is a steady, good-paying profession — a step toward success and respectability. And that is the goal his parents have for him. They wish to spare him the fate of sinking into the quicksand of poverty and nothingness, for they are of Jewish immigrant stock and it is Depression America of the 1930's.

Nevertheless, David has his mind and heart set, and so, in order to gain training and fulfill his dream of glory, he goes to the Marlowe Theatre — a flea-bitten, ratty, hole-in-the-corner showshop off Broadway. This school will put anybody into any play — providing he has some money!

Junior Play — "Enter Laughing"

David auditions, and miracle of miracles gets a part! It seems not only does he have three dollars (!) but also the leading lady, Angela (CHERYL BOESHORE), thinks he's cute. But her father, haughty, boozed-up Mr. Marlowe (MICHAEL McCARTHY), has some doubts.

Encouragement comes from David's adolescent confederate, Marvin (JOEL McLEOD), and Miss B. (SUSAN REPPERT), a blond secretary whose "gentlemen friend" (DAVID BOLTZ) later lends David a much-needed tuxedo. Our hero also gets moral support from his girl, Wanda (KATHY BORTZ), who is apprehensive when she learns about his feelings toward Angela.

Finally on opening night, David catapults onstage and swallows his voice whole — but, as his Mother rightly remarks, "He's the best one."

The play captured well the wildly amusing absurdity of the young man's situation. David's perils and pratfalls as he tries to develop his dubious talents made for broad, boisterous fun, so that when the curtain fell, the audience exited roaring!

Speakers, Scholars Receive Recognition —

Assembly chairman Michael McCarthy admires the award presented to Susan Reppert (First Place for "Legalization of Marijuana"), while Cheryl Boeshore (Second Place, "The Need for Elementary Guidance Counselors"), Linda Frick (Third Place, "Biafra"), Gregory Garman (First Place, "Destruction by Demostration"), James Sears (Second Place, "National Debt"), and David Derr (Third Place, "Non-Violent Demostration") look on. This event, sponsored by the Oley Lions' Club, was judged by Arthur Sinclair, a member of the Kutztown State College staff. Mr. Joseph Miller was the coach of this activity.

Past Comes Alive In Bar, Store

Last spring the eleventh grade American history classes, under the supervision of Miss Stoner, Mr. Lesko's student teacher, were of the belief that the sometimes dry past should be made to come alive. So, they got together and recreated several scenes from by-gone eras.

In addition to the two examples pictured here, the class also filmed a silent movie — shot partly in the railroad yard at Boyertown where the cast ran into some "difficulties" — and constructed a shack on the order of those used by many poor families in Depression America of the 1930's.

The entire project was well-received and did help to break the monotony of merely reading about what has been.

Hillbilly Comedy As Part Of Activities —

A tale of death by suggestion and an attempted "shot-gun" wedding — mountain style — were the plots of two plays presented by the Junior High Drama Club on March 12 and June 4, 1969.

"The Waxwork" told of a man who agreed to spend a night alone in the dim quietness of a wax museum. Unfortunately, his own fears caused his end — or did they? Who really knows!?

Snoddy's attempts to get a husband sparked the laughs in "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills." She preferred the company of hogs until the Dude came along. Then . . . !

'This Magic Moment' — Theme Of 1969 Prom

New Middle School Opens Doors To Sixth Graders

With the opening of the new wing designed to house grades 6-7-8, the old label "junior high" passed into limbo, and a new one — "middle school" — took its place.

Although definitely embryonic in its first year of operation, both the faculty and Mr. Lesko, the co-ordinator, worked to iron out the numerous problems and weaknesses and to develop a strong educational program.

For the sixth graders, it definitely was a busy time. Passing to the art room or the library or music class was new. Gym classes in those baggy uniforms began, and first experiences with lockers proved to be a noisy one indeed. There also were dances, activity nights, clubs, Student Council meetings, and an intramural sports program to add diversity to the school year.

Gary Deysher, Catherine Folk, Kevin Howard (Treasurer), John Strickler, and Bryan Willman represented the class in Student Council.

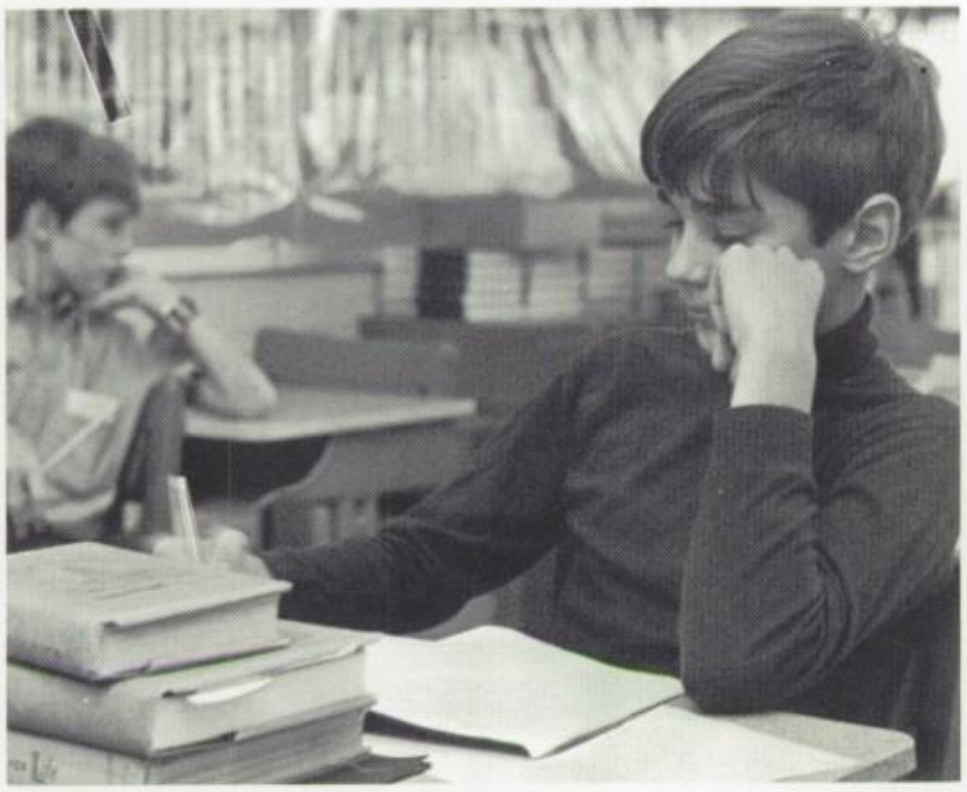
"Greenies" Adjust Readily



Although the seventh graders also were new to such things as having a different teacher for each subject, changing from room to room, dances, lockers, homogeneous sections, and physical education classes, they adjusted quickly. Perhaps the problem that still bothered them as the year progressed was the extreme distances between several classrooms.

Representing the Class of 1975 in Student Council were Cindy Angstadt, David Johnson (Vice-President), Robert Padilla, Kermit Readinger, David Walb, and Scott Yoder.

8th Graders Shape Plans For Future Careers

The advent of the Middle School gave a new meaning to eighth grade. No longer was it merely the second year of junior high; now it had become the preparation point for high school — a time for deciding upon ambitions and selecting courses of sudy for the remainder of public education.

As the "senior members" of the Middle School, the eighth graders dominated Student Council. Representing the class were: Nevin Angstadt, Lance Atkins, Elmer Dengler, Cynthia Eveland, Craig Keller, Carol Levan, David Melcher, Shelly Mosteller, Lars Schneider, Debra Strausburger (Secretary), Kenneth Weller (President), and Boyd Werner.

Now definitely part of the high school, the Class of 1973, working for the first time in areas of their own choosing, became increasingly aware of their own abilities and limitations. New, more detailed courses, foreign languages, additional time in shop or home economics — these and others gave the Frosh an insight as to what their future careers might well be.

Debra Brown, Deborah Eckert, Ricky Hoch, Raymond Kegerise, Gerald Seiders, and Edward Specht were Student Council representatives.

Sophs Attack Studies, Activities With Interest

Led by Donna Fick (President), Marjorie Weiss (Vice-President), Brenda Keehn (Secretary), and Sheran Kegerise (Treasurer), the Sophomores found both the subject matter and the activities of their second year of high school increasingly involved — and yet appealing. The chance to attend the Vocational-Technical School was a new part of their curriculum.

Student Council representatives were: Bruce Bechtel, Carolyn Hettinger, William Reinert, Judy Rohrbach, Brenda Schweitzer, and Michael Wolford.

The Juniors, nearing that magic year of graduation, were kept busy, not only in the academic area (credits, College Boards, Iowa Tests), but also in such activities as the Junior-Senior Prom, the class play, and, of course, class rings.

Officers upon whose shoulders much of the organization for the Class of 1971 fell were Michael Schneider (President), Joseph Janiszewski (Vice-President), Marie Eddinger (Secretary), and Patricia Hetrick (Treasurer). In Student Council, Rosemary Fisher, Mary Jane Rhoads, Michael Schneider, Dianne Seidel, and Steven Zackon acted as representatives.

Two Male Protesters Plus Romance

Take two devoted young men struggling to put out a "protest" magazine (Fallout), add one all-American female neighbor who manages to send both of them into a romantic orbit, mix well with the humor of Neil (The Odd Couple) Simon, and what do you have? The answer could only be THE STAR-SPANGLED GIRL, a hilarious comedy presented by the Class of 1970 under the direction of Mr. Matthews on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 13, 14, and 15, 1969.

MARK ZELLNER (as NORMAN CORNELL) and JOEL McLEOD (as ANDY HOBART) portrayed the pair of earnest (albeit, starving) intellectuals who were diverted from their dedication by sweet, super-patriotic, ex-Olympic swimmer SOPHIE RAUSCHMEYER (played by CHERYL BOESHORE).

The wholesome Miss Rauschmeyer, standing for "My country, right or wrong" met the wall of Andy and Norman who believed "My country, wrong, wrong, wrong!" Her friendliness is charming, and Norman's immobile reaction left the audience in side-stitches. Love, for him, was a determined madness, with the humor of it highlighted by her frantic rejection of his advances.

Andy had a few spirited minutes answering the phone and fielding irate calls from the printer who wanted to collect the $600 they owed him. Then, too, there was their daredevil landlady who insisted that Andy be her motorcycling and surfing date — or she would demand the rent!

The real fun began, however, when our trio began to triangulate romantically and bubbled a lot of fun out of familiar situations.

The end of the evening saw physical attraction win out over ideological distractions, and our heroine, still confident in her beliefs, became Norman's secretary.

(ABOVE): Sophie — "Are you goin' to let me call the police? Andy (in pain) — "Yes . . . Yes . . . You ought to be ashamed of yourself, being stronger than a fellow."

With Girl Swimmer Equals . . .??!!

Again the Marching Band showed that a lot of practice, perseverance, and patience achieves results. And both the student body and the residents of the school district should be proud of these musicians. Whether it was in Kutztown, Ephrata, New Holland, Topton, Temple, Bally, Oley, Hamburg, Lewisburg, or Reading made no difference. Always they tried to do their best. Sometimes it paid visible dividends. In competition parades, the group was awarded second place at Topton, first at New Holland (!), and fourth at Hamburg's King Frost Carnival.

The band, band front, and twirlers were directed by Mr. Betz, Mr. Sample, and Mrs. Reitnauer.

Student Council, Faculty Work Together To Begin Exchange Student Program At OVHS —

For several years, members of the faculty and of the Student Council have worked toward obtaining an exchange student. At last, in early 1970, this goal was realized. In co-operation with the Fleetwood Area High School, and under the sponsorship of the Fleetwood Rotary Club, Miss Rosemary Graham came from Australia to OVHS and was enrolled as a member of the Junior Class. Arriving on January 12, she lived as a guest of Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Zackon, a local veterinarian.

Miss Graham's home in Tatura, Victoria, is in an area much like the Oley Valley. There she attended the Shepperton Girls' High School, where she followed the academic course. Her many hobbies include swimming (as well as swimming instruction), sewing, playing tennis, riding horses, and serving actively in the Victorian Association Youth Club. While at OVHS, Miss Graham joined the bowling team (and became a rather proficient pinster), acted in the Junior Class play, Up the Down Staircase, and sang in the chorus.

She is interested in medicine and, after the completion of her public education, hopes to become a nurse.

OVHS was proud to have had Miss Graham as a student for the second semester of the 1969-1970 term. We wish her luck in her stay at Fleetwood during the fall semester, and hope that when she returns to Australia on January 1, 1971, Miss Graham will take with her pleasant memories of her visit here in the United States.

Soccerlads Finish With 0 Wins, 1 Tie, 12 Losses

In what must go down in the record books as the most unsuccessful soccer season since Oley won the championship back in 1960, the Lynx finished last in the Eastern Division of the Berks League. Final results: no wins, one tie, and twelve defeats.

In game number one, Wilson shut out Oley, 2-0. Next, the Brandywine Bullets blanked the Lynx, 6-0. Then Fleetwood triumphed, 3-1. Guy Bryan made our only tally in the third period.

Following that, the Hamburg Hawks kept Oley on the skids, 4-0; Kutztown defeated the visiting Lynx, 4-2, in spite of two third-quarter goals by Bryan; and Mt. Penn handed Oley its sixth straight loss, 3-0.

The one bright spot in the Twin Valley 6-2 dubbing of Oley was Bryan's double goals in the fourth quarter.

Fleetwood earned a 1-0 victory over the Lynx at Reading Municipal Stadium. Then Brandywine took Oley, 4-2. Bryan hit from twelve yards out for a first period Lynx score, and William Allen rammed in an eight-yarder in the last quarter.

The Hamburg Hawks walloped Oley, 5-1. Kurt Gernerd, a substitute, chalked up our only point in the fourth from eight yards out. He again scored late in the next game (with Kutztown) from a ten-yard distance; however, the Cougars nosed Oley, 2-1.

Oley averted an all-losing season by getting a 3-3 tie with Mt. Penn. Gernerd registered in the first, and Robert Rothenberger added two five-yarders, one in the third and one in the windup period.

The season closed with a 4-1 rapping by Twin Valley. Mark Trout came through with a goal in the third.

THE END

Now,
At the end,
We look ahead —
Yet never forgetting
Where we have been.
We are the children gone by;
We have laughed,
Dreamed,
Smiled,
Loved.
Then, somehow, along the way
We lost yesterday,
And are not quite sure
Where to find tomorrow.
We find ourselves
No longer the children
We once were,
But
Not yet
The men we shall be.

ALMA MATER

We sing to Oley Valley High School,
Noble and strong.
To thee with loyal hearts,
We raise our song.
May your spirits never die,
Nor your walls decay.
We will sing our praises,
Through endless days.

We make for thee a crown,
Rest on thy brow.
Pride, glory, honor, love,
Before thee bow.
Swelling to Heaven's high
Our praises ring.
Pray that Oley Valley High School
Survives all things.
